

Bay Players' Production of Clue: The Play

Don Callagher a.k.a. Mr. Boddy was the first death of the night.

Col. Mustard, played by Ron Gori, suggested the group split up into pairs to figure out who had killed Mr. Boddy and the cook.

Rosanne Rooney doubled as the cook, Mrs. Ho, and the Singing Telegram Girl.

Stephen Doherty had the most lines of the night, as he played Wadsworth, the butler.

Miss Scarlet, played by Stephanie Gallagher, aims the revolver at the other house guests during one ending of Clue.

The cast of Clue directed by Theresa Chiasson. From left to right Joe LaGreca as Mr. Green, Rosanne Rooney as Singing Telegram Girl, Dan Gallagher as Mr. Body, Dori Bryan as Mrs. White, Sarah Angley as Yvette, Miki Joseph as Mrs. Peacock, Ron Gori as Col. Mustard, Stephen Doherty as Wadsworth, Jeff Phillips as Prof. Plum and Stephanie Gallagher as Miss Scarlet.

Mr. Green, played by Joe LaGreca, holds a lead pipe that he was given as a gift from Mr. Body, who presented all of the guests with a box containing a weapon at the start of the night.